Endocrine Essentials

Our endocrine system is a myriad of complex interdependent relationships between glands, hormones and cells and tissues. This amazing system is responsible for regulating countless metabolic processes that influence energy levels, growth, development, tissue and organ function and even mood. The pressures of modern life often affect the delicate balance of this remarkable endocrine “orchestra”.

MediHerb's Endocrine Essentials is a comprehensive range of core products that support all aspects of endocrine health to promote vitality and well-being. ▲

Withania Complex

- An effective combination of Ashwaganda (Withania), Skullcap, Licorice and Korean Ginseng to support both adrenal and nervous system health
- A wonderful whole body tonic to promote vitality and stamina in people of any age
- The combination of adrenal and nervous system support helps to promote relaxation and the body's ability to adapt to temporary stress
- Specialized testing techniques used by MediHerb ensure that the correct plant parts containing appropriate levels of active constituents are used, which is particularly important for both Ashwaganda and Korean Ginseng ▲

Coleus Forte

- Coleus Forte supports thyroid and cardiovascular health
- An extensively researched herb that supports moderate weight loss in conjunction with a calorie controlled diet and exercise program
- MediHerb's Coleus Forte contains the extract used in clinical trials and contains 18.7 mg of the important component forskolin in every tablet
- Forskolin acts directly on the cellular messenger and regulator, cyclic AMP, to maintain cellular and tissue health ▲

Chaste Tree

- A traditional herb to support many aspects of female endocrine health such as easing PMS discomfort, encouraging healthy menstrual cycling and supporting normal reproductive function
- Also assists in maintaining healthy skin in men and women where normal hormonal balance is required
- Research on Chaste Tree suggests that it may also help with assisting normal sleep patterns
- MediHerb's Chaste Tree is tested to ensure appropriate levels of all of the important phytochemicals especially the diterpenes ▲

Wild Yam Complex

- An effective combination of Wild Yam, Shatavari, St John's Wort, Sage, Black Cohosh and Korean Ginseng to support all aspects of menopause
- Provides relief from the discomfort of menopause, calms the nerves and restores balance in temporary mood swings
- MediHerb has researched Wild Yam extensively and developed a new understanding of its phytochemistry ▲

Thyroid Complex

- Combines Bladderwrack, Ashwaganda and Bacopa to provide optimal support for the “master gland”, the thyroid
- Assists in maintaining normal basal metabolism for normal energy production
- Can assist normal weight and mental alertness
- Helps to maintain normal thyroid function and improve general well-being ▲

Rhodiola & Ginseng Complex

- Combines two powerful tonic herbs, Rhodiola and Korean Ginseng, to promote energy, vitality and stamina
- Ideal formula to support physical and mental performance
- Korean Ginseng and Rhodiola contain guaranteed levels of active constituents to ensure optimal quality and clinical results ▲

Adrenal Complex – New Product! Alive ■ Alert ■ Active

- An exciting new product combining the two most effective herbal adrenal tonics, Licorice and Rehmannia
- An essential product to help the modern patient counter stress and rise to the challenges of everyday life
- Helps restore adrenal function to reduce the effects of stress
- Supports adrenal gland health and energy production to help combat fatigue
- Can assist immune function when experiencing occasional stress ▲
